HOW DO YOU DO, NEIGHBOR?

Mother Goose Nursery Rhymes play a significant role in the development and molding of every child's understanding of the fantastic world of make believe. Again and again many adults return to this world to recapture their youthful appreciation of Mother Goose. We, the editorial staff of the 1956 Wilsonian, would like to take you back once more to the many times when you were enthralled by the Mother Goose Nursery Rhymes.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. How Do You Do, Neighbor?	1-4
2. Old King Cole and His Court (Administration)	5-22
3. Jack and Jill (Seniors)	23-56
4. Old Woman in a Shoe (Underclasemen)	57-66
5. Come out to Play (Extra-Curricular)	67-112
6. The King Was in His Counting House Counting All His Money	113-116

ALMA MATER

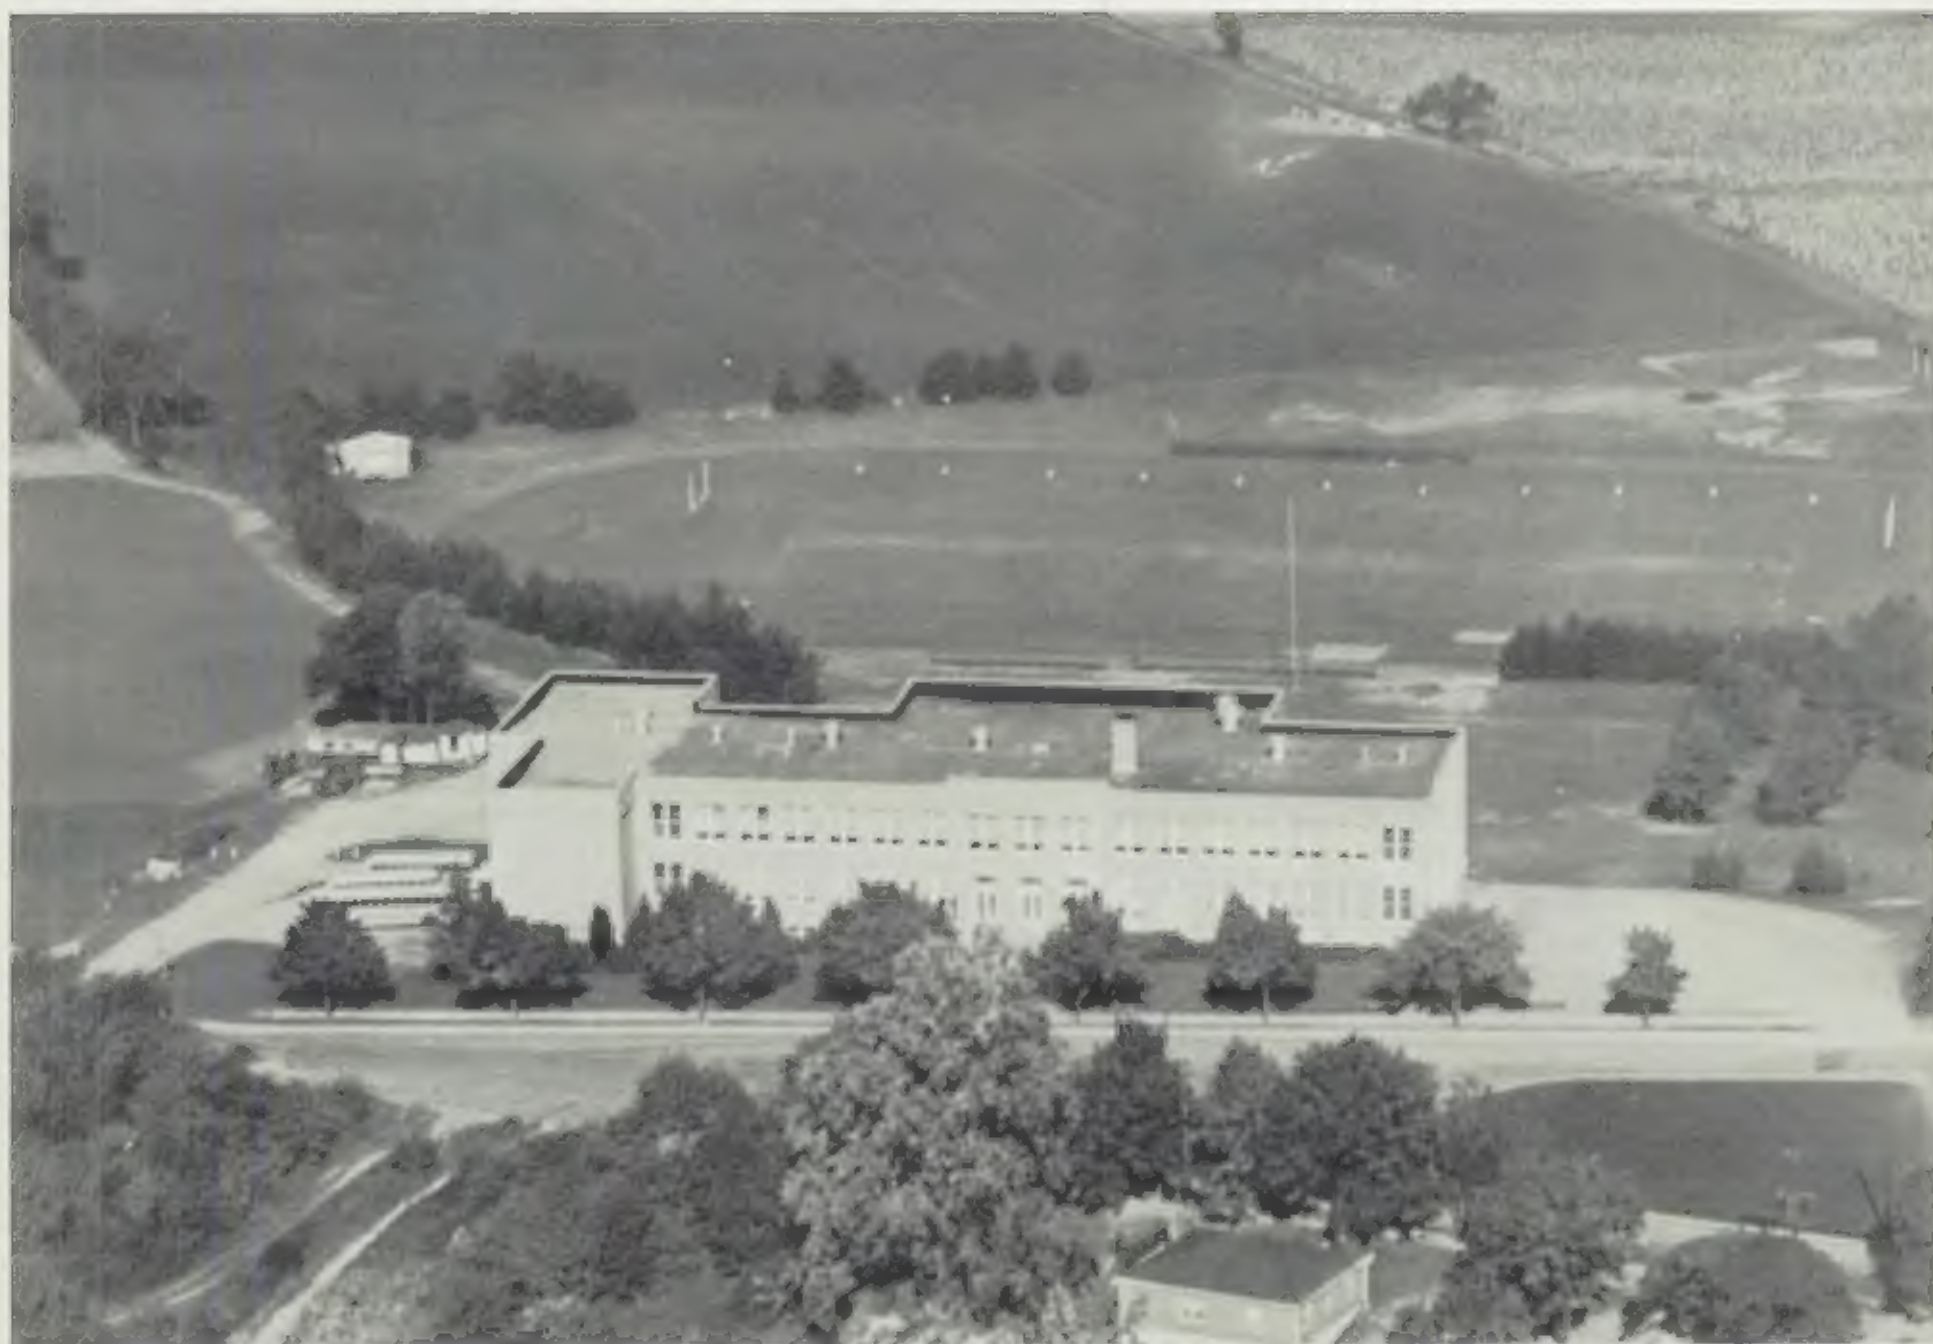

1. Mounted on the verdant hilltop,
Looking o'er the town,
Proudly stands our high school building,
As the sun goes down.
2. Daily youth will tread the pathway,
To its open door,
Finding there a wealth of learning
As they did of yore.
3. Thus we dedicate this structure,
Monument to youth,
Ever striving, ever learning,
Loyalty and truth.

Chorus:

Wilson High School! Wilson High School!
Sing with all your might.
We will rally round the standard
Of the Red and White.

SCHOOL MOTTO

We learn today for a better world tomorrow.

WILSON HIGH SCHOOL

SINKING SPRING SCHOOL

THE KING OF FRANCE

Mr. Aaron R. Miller

As a token of our gratitude and appreciation for all the guidance and help he has given to us, we, the class of 1956, wish to dedicate our yearbook, the Wilsonian, to Mr. Aaron R. Miller. Among the many things we will always remember are the hassocks, our dance and movie, his meaningful look and extraordinary volume. We are sure many future classes will appreciate and benefit from his diligent work in Student Council and his intensive study and teaching of foreign countries.

OLD KING COLE was a merry old soul,

And a merry old soul was he

May I bring special greetings to you, the members of the class of 1956, living in a wonderful country and during the atomic age.

Automation coupled with the electric eye and the mechanical brain are bringing to us a new era in manufacturing which will allot more leisure time to the average working man. "How best to use that leisure?" becomes a problem of the government.

A sense of security effectuated by a social security program and a vastly improved health service program are bound to lengthen the human life span.

The above social and economic changes will open up new avenues of social living, and our standards of living will continue to rise above the world averages.

Whether you go into industry for technical training or to college for professional training, you need good work and study habits. You can solve the most difficult problems, if you know how to study.

Some of your happiest days are coming to an end. While preparing for the more serious aspects of your future lives, pause a bit and express your thanks to all those who made it possible for you to arrive at this place of graduation.

Best wishes to everyone.

William C. Kutz

Supervising Principal

"Time and Change are busy ever" is a phrase familiar to most of us. We acknowledge the fact that time never stops, but we realize that change, though it is in evidence all about us, is a slow process when it means breaking with certain traditions. Much greater progressive change is essential in the field of human relations. We always feel the need for each other in new and significant undertakings.

The scientific progress of the United States of America, even during your lifetime, is the envy of every nation seeking world leadership. Since we are a leader among nations, it is extremely important that you as citizens become an active cooperative influence toward the realization of the objectives of the United Nations. We are grateful to all of you for the many fine contributions which you made toward the many projects which were successfully completed during your stay at Wilson.

Our hope is that each of you will earnestly use your talents toward the goals you have set. It has been said that, "Whatever a man's mind can envision, he can find ways to accomplish." The world progresses through the efforts of those who help to make the right things happen. We are confident that we can count on you.

With sincere best wishes.

Clayton D. Rehner

Principal

ALL THE KING'S MEN

Seated are Mrs. Darlyne S. Lamm, treasurer; Edwin W. Kaufman, vice president; James R. Meyer, president; Robert K. Shearer, secretary; Henry J. Eckenroth, Wallace O. Finney, William C. Kutz, supervising principal.

Standing are William B. Tobias, W. Richard Eshelman, solicitor, Harold L. Beidler, Harold J. Heim, John W. From, Donald B. Miller, Charles J. Adams, Sr., Stanley B. Heckman, Millard S. Reiff, John S. Riegel, Arthur H. Lutz, Richard G. Bollman, Alfred D. Steckel, principal, elementary division, Clayton D. Rehner, principal.

Taking time out during a board meeting, "all the king's men" and Mrs. Lamm pose for the photographer. The members of the executive board work long and hard on the many problems which arise due to the addition being planned.

Presently, the final plans for the addition are being formulated. A resolution is being considered to increase the size of the gymnasium and the cafeteria. It has also been requested that space be provided for a mechanical drawing room and a greenhouse. The plans of the new edifice were recently explained in detail by the architect.

Other issues discussed by the members of the board include, district-owned school buses, completion of the Lincoln Park grade school, and a site of 34 acres. The size and need of an addition is constantly a basic problem.

THE FIDDLERS THREE

The help of the "fiddlers three" is constantly sought by the students. Our secretaries can also be found checking the tax duplicate, as done by Richard Keener on the left; or checking outgoing transcripts, as Mrs. Dorothy Hafer, seated, and Miss Edith Reedy are doing.

The 12-C journalism class is industriously writing a story for the Spectator after interviewing Mr. David Evans.

The 9-C2 English class listens attentively as E. Liss reads.

As the 12-C English class watches, K. Huntzinger points to Shakespeare's birthplace on the map preparatory to studying "Macbeth."

In the spirit of Mother Goose, the members of the English department bring a pear and a pair of shoes to their meeting. They are Mr. Constern, department head, Mrs. Rollman, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Herb, Miss Zug, Mrs. Rittle, Mr. Haas, Mrs. Hoffman, and Miss Sheidy.

PAIRS OR PEARS

Only when English is mastered can people communicate with each other intelligently. In order to build a large vocabulary and broaden the students' general knowledge, the reading of good books is encouraged. Grammar, punctuation, spelling, and general composition work prepare students for future needs.

THE OLD WOMAN FROM FRANCE

Miss Seitzinger adjusts A. Zwicky's toga as he prepares to take part in a Latin play.

All eyes are on Senorita Schultz as she attempts to break the pinata being held by Senor Eberly during the Spanish II Christmas fiesta.

The foreign language department enriches the students in the speaking of foreign languages. A better understanding of other peoples of the world and their customs provides the student with a better cultural background. Modern day use is emphasized along with the similarities and derivation of many present day English words.

Herr Haas exhibits a German Pleife to Miss Seitzinger and Senora Rollman. Among the other souvenirs are a cameo from Italy and a sombrero from Mexico.

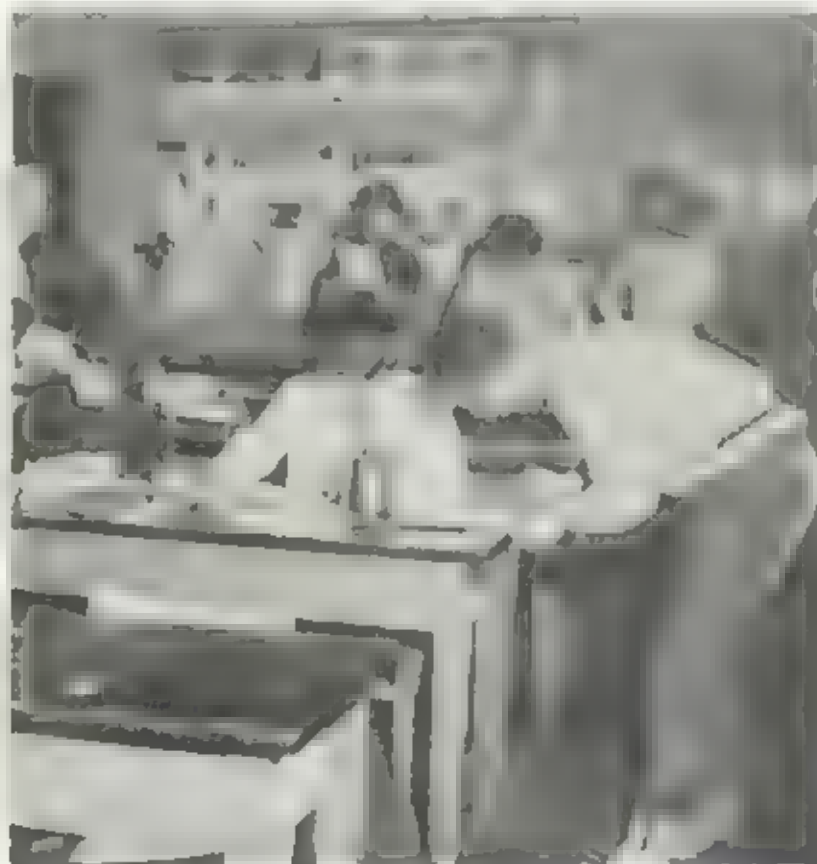

Six Deutscher gather around the Christmas tree singing "O Tannenbaum." They are T. Miller, J. Noble, P. Amour, C. Leininger, H. Liss, and M. Longenecker.

THE CHILD AND THE STAR

Looking over the material of their department are Mr. Moyer, Mr. Evans, seated; Mr. Weik, Mr. Klingler, and Mr. Arner, department head.

Working tediously over their never-ending physics experiment are L. Huntzberger, J. Doremus, R. Coleman, and other members of the 12-C class.

Oh! What's that? This is the question asked so many times by the 10-C1 biology class. Here we find Mr. Klingler answering the questions of D. Krick, D. Gipe, and J. Hinkel.

The senior science class looks over the filter beds at Maiden Creek Filtering Plant as Mr. Evans asks the guide a question.

"Little star, O tell me, pray,
Where you keep yourself all day?"

In order to understand what goes on around us everyday, we need a sound background in all branches of science. The science department not only gives students a broad general scientific knowledge but prepares them for a career. In this age there is a never ending demand for engineers and technicians of all kinds to develop and improve products for both peace and wartime use.

MULTIPLICATION IS VEXATION

As the modern world becomes more and more complex, a mathematical background becomes increasingly important. Not only is it necessary for an individual to be able to perform mechanical computations, but the underlying principles should be understood. Although pupils are taught to think clearly and reason for themselves, they still say, "Multiplication is vexation."

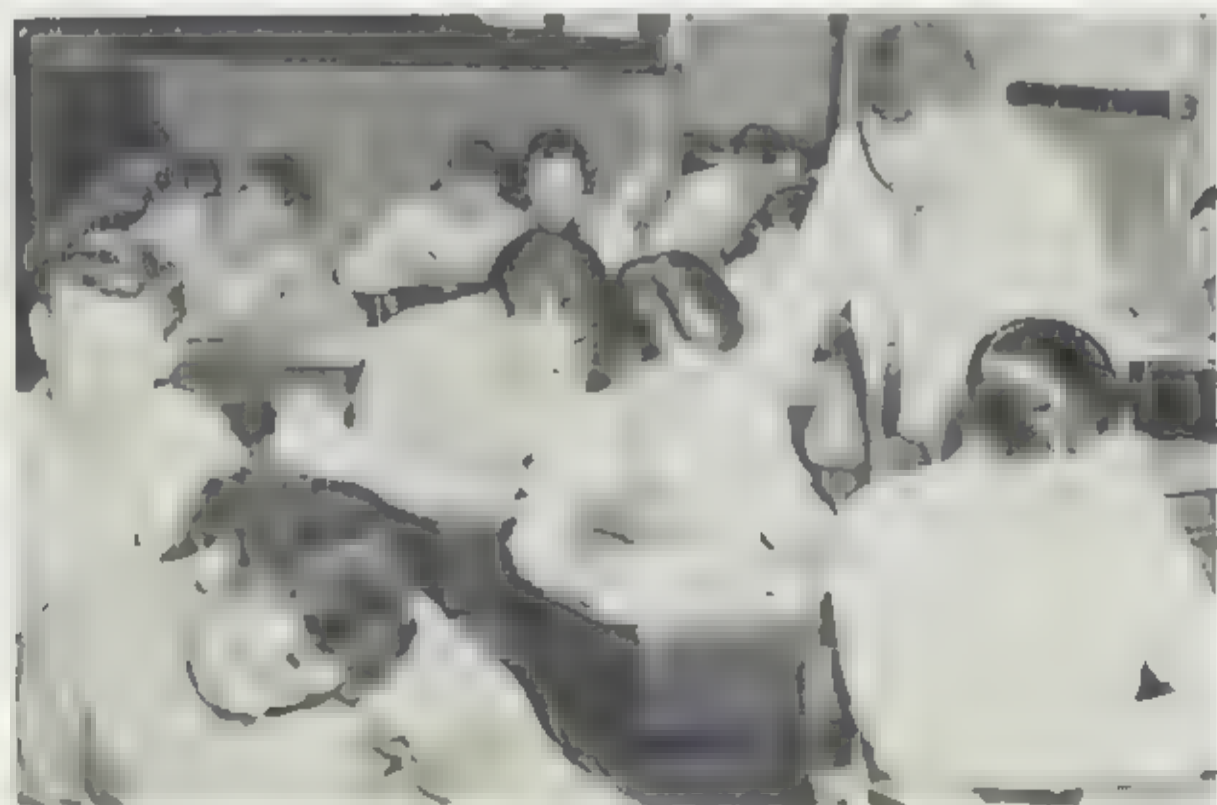

Mrs. Grater points out several geometric solids as other members of the mathematics department look on. Standing are Mr. E. Evans, Mr. Shaak, department head; Mr. Wise, and Mr. Weik. Mr. Friend is missing from the picture.

R. Steulmer sweats it out while proving a theorem during an 11-OS plane geometry class.

Graphing of a function is explained by Mr. Shaak to members of the twelfth grade advanced algebra class.

The 9-C2 algebra class under the supervision of Mr. Weik begins work on a new assignment.

Mr. Moyer points to the candidates' names on the voting machine donated by the class of 1955 to Mr. Griesemer, Mr. L. Miller, department head; Mrs. Herb, Mr. A. Miller, and Mr. Wise.

"Helpful" election hints are given to P. Lyons and R. Bross by J. Brant and P. Webber.

Reviewing the previous day's world history lesson to 11-B is L. Thomas.

A. Schwerdt tells B. Pompiano what to write on the board during an 8-3 history class.

Throughout high school the social studies department endeavors to teach the student to live better in the world today. As the past is studied, an attempt is made to understand the present. A knowledge of geography is obtained early and is later tied in with current world situations.

COME MY CHILDREN

Looking over some college pamphlets are Mr. Rehner, principal; Miss Seitzinger, dean of women; and Mr. Derr, junior high and boys' counselor.

Mr. Derr is checking J. Wengert's guidance paper as the rest of the 9-G2 class works to complete their papers.

Miss Seitzinger assists Eileen Reinsel and C. Ohlinger in filling out the applications to the colleges they wish to attend.

Mr. Robert A. Newcombe, director of admission at Juniata College, checks the contents of the Juniata College Tests with B. Hartman and N. Bennett.

What am I going to do when I graduate? What courses should I take to prepare for that job? These are only a few of the many questions which the guidance department helps students answer everyday. "Come my children" is the request of the counselors, who help pupils adapt themselves at school and guide them in choosing future vocations.

TO MARKET TO BUY A FAT PIG

"The date is — ." Mr. Naulty is assisting K. Williams as she changes the stamp for the student bank books. The rest of the senior bookkeeping class are handling their homeroom's accounts.

S. Gish and Mr. Naulty check K. Williams as she adds a club's receipts in Central Treasury.

Mr. Paul Strunk is explaining to Miss Helen Rhodes, department head, and Mr. Ralph Naulty the method someone would use if he went to market to buy a fat pig.

"The electron is — ." dictates Mr. Arner to I. Miller, his student secretary.

Large corporations and firms are demanding qualified and trained office employees. Besides the customary typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and office practice, business students are given invaluable experience serving as student secretaries and running the school's banking system. Opportunity to learn operation of the switchboard and other office equipment is offered. Last but not least, the principles of salesmanship course enables us to go to market to buy a fat pig (wisely).

With the help of the magnetic board Mr. Paul Arner and Mr. William Brumbach, driver training instructors, explain a typical driving condition to J. Knerr and B. Frantz.

BUMPETY, BUMPETY, BUMP!

Safety on our highways is of the utmost importance. With the ever-increasing amount of traffic, good driving habits become more and more essential. All our students obtain valuable classroom instruction. Whoever wishes, may have behind-the-wheel training in the 1955 Chevrolet. Mr. Brumbach and Mr. Arner, instructors, can, without a doubt, tell of many rides that went "bumpety, bumpety, bump."

See, see! What shall I see? is the thought of M. A. DeSantis as Mr. Arner tests her peripheral vision.

S. Lutz and E. Neufeld change a tire as part of their driver training instruction.

As Mr. Brumbach explains the knobs and dials on the dash of the car, A. Apsokardu wonders whether she will remember them.

"Great A, little a,
bouncing B,

The cat's in the cupboard,
and can't see me, reads Miss Sheidy" as Miss Berger illustrates this well-known nursery rhyme.

"Hey! Diddle, Diddle, The Cat and The Fiddle" is being enacted by Mr. Weber, instrumental music instructor, and Mrs.
Unger, vocal music
teacher.

M. Sumner collects a two cent fine from R. Ruerzer as D. Gies-ler looks for the overdue card.

L. Weller, C. Trexler, and J.
Fitterling are shown decorating the library's bulletin board for Christmas.

B. Snyder, C. Mays, and C. Kepner are waiting to hear "Rhapsody in Blue" as Mrs. Unger puts the record on the record player.

J. Lopata, B. Benson, and C. Halder are arranging non-fiction books according to the Dewey Decimal System.

A, L, M

A was an artist

The art department endeavors to bestow upon the students a varied program of arts and crafts which will enable them to appreciate the finer things in life.

L was a librarian

The library provides suitable reading and research material for all students and teachers.

M was a musician

The music department not only teaches students to develop their talents, but also helps them understand and appreciate fine music.

Working on their projects in 96.2 art class are D. Edmich, I. Parsons, T. Rhoads, and C. Eisenbise.

C. Kunkelman and P. Owens are two of the ninth graders who decorated the school for the Christmas season.

OLD MOTHER HUBBARD WENT TO THE CUPBOARD

The home is the basic institution in this country. Our young Mother Hubbards are taught all the techniques needed in order to run efficient happy homes. Homemaking is more than just sewing and cooking but includes proper cleaning and care of furniture and equipment, good grooming, child care, and serving as a hostess.

Miss Adele Bast, junior high home economics teacher, and Mrs. Betty Berger, vocational home economics instructress, are amused at Freckles', the Reinsel "hund", reaction when she finds the cupboard bare.

Miss Bast's 9-C2 home economics class is busily making Spanish rice. Of course, we'll be glad to join you!

Concentration prevails as F. Schwarz, K. Schwarz, J. Showalter, and S. Hinner-shitz, all juniors, with the help of Mrs. Berger, work on their dresses.

HICKETY-PICKETY MY BLACK HEN

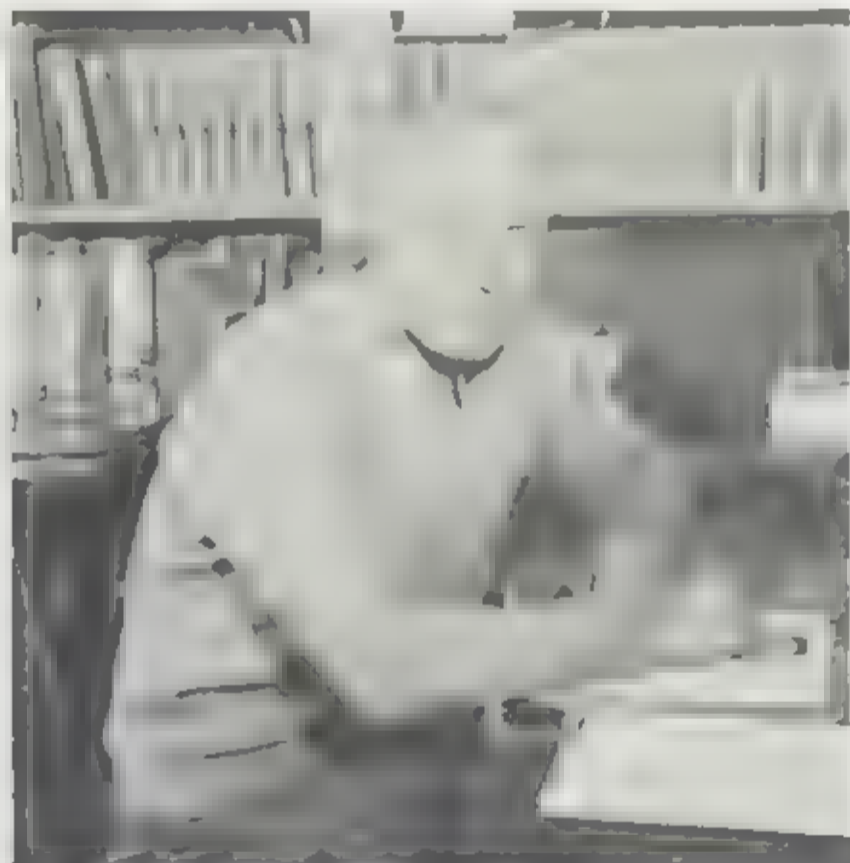

Learning by practice is the main purpose of the vocational agriculture department. The boys are given all-around farm experiences which will aid them on their future farms.

These boys raise tomatoes for Campbell, corn, chickens, turkeys, wheat and cabbage. They also are taught animal husbandry, dairying, and forestry.

Since raising chickens is a year round project, "Hickety-Pickety my black hen" is a very appropriate title for this course.

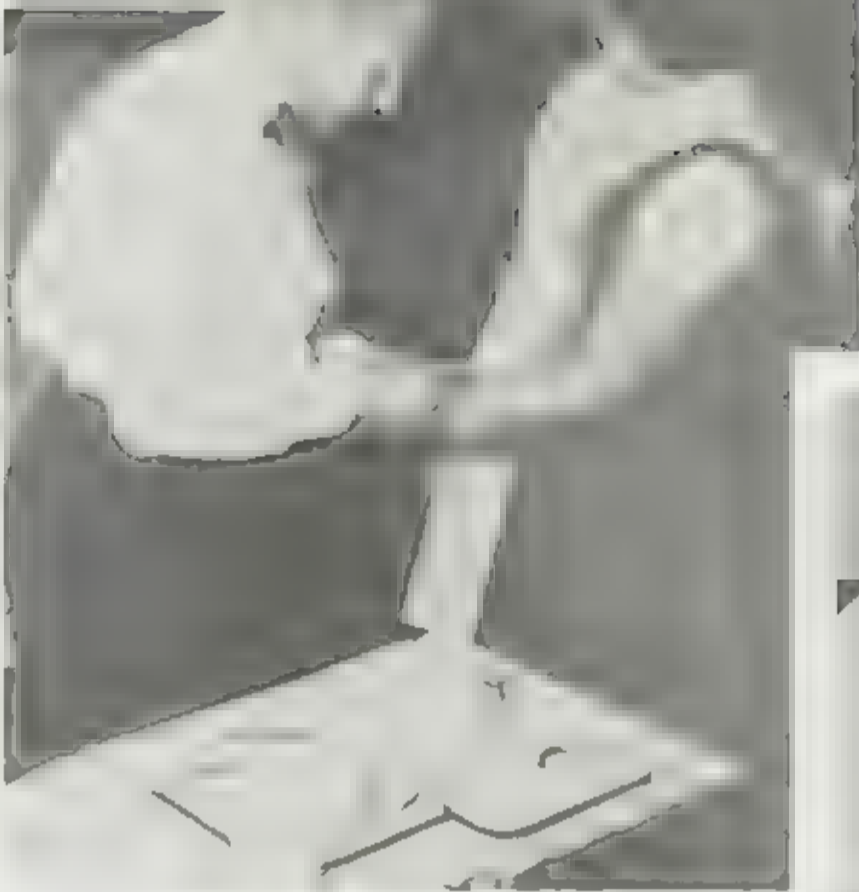

P. Stump, F. Eichberger, and C. Paulson are proudly displaying the projects they raised during the year.

Mr. Horace Miller, vocational agriculture teacher, takes time from his busy schedule to pose for the Wilsonian photographer.

Busily cleaning chickens for sale are F. Eichberger, T. Sechrist, T. Sher, and P. Stump.

"Don't worry, this won't hurt," says Dr. Alfred Johnson as he gives a T. B. shot.

DR. FOSTER WENT TO GLOUCESTER

Every year students in grades 7, 9, 11 and all students in sports receive T. B. injections. They also receive physical checkups by Dr. Alfred Johnson, yearly.

"That's a brave girl!" says Dr. Alfred Johnson to a different reaction as he administers a shot. Looking on is Mrs. Laura Rettgers, R. N. In the background is Miss Arlene Huyette, R. N., of the Berks County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Ralph be nimble! Ralph be quick! Miss Susan Leinbach, girls' athletic director, and Mr. Norman Hopp, physical education instructor, watch Mr. Ralph Leininger, boys' athletic director, as he jumps over a candlestick.

JACK BE NIMBLE! JACK BE QUICK!

"Over the net!" the senior boys shout in a physical education class.

The physical education department works with the health department to insure healthy individuals. The students while participating in many sports learn teamwork and good sportsmanship.

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT

The boys in the industrial arts classes learn how Jack builds his house. Students design furniture and make scale blueprints in mechanical drawing class. In senior high they get actual experience in the construction of furniture such as tables, cedar chests, and lamp bases. The industrial arts department helps students develop practical skills which will be useful in later life.

Under the supervision of Mr. Schwenk, members of 9-C1 learn mechanical drawing. They are J. Reese, R. Forry and R. Aleshire.

F. Rhine proudly displays a checkerboard he made during shop class as R. Rick puts finishing touches on his bowl.

F. Guinther works laboriously on a lamp base in an elective shop class.

Mr. Brumbach and Mr. Schwenk keep a watchful eye on D. Hepner as he uses the electric plane. Looking on are D. Tice and A. Reinholz.

QUEEN OF HEARTS

After three to four periods of "food for thought," students are all anxious to get some delicious home cooking. "Mam" Lebo, "queen of hearts," is especially praised when she serves those delicious tarts. Other extraordinary items on the menu include deep fried fish, bar-b-ques, spaghetti, and French fries.

SHE MADE SOME TARTS

Mrs. Lebo is famous among the students for her mouth-watering pie. Helping her to show them off are Mrs. Kiehn, Mrs. Reedy, Mrs. Geubler, and Mrs. Funckrock.

WEE WILLIE WINKEL

Playing in their paradise, the boiler room, we find Mr. Sausage, Mr. Hadesly, Mr. Billings, Mr. Ruoss, and Mr. Schmoyer. Missing from the picture is Mr. Brown.

Our janitorial staff is constantly kept busy keeping the school clean and in repair. Although not all our janitors are wee or Willies, they can be found upstairs and downstairs cleaning the classrooms, emptying waste paper, and repairing locks and lockers. We sincerely appreciate the work done by the maintenance staff.

Performing one of his daily tasks after the lunch rush we find Mr. Ruoss cleaning up the doors in the gym.

JACK AND JILL came down the hill,

The night of graduation

JACK AND JILL WENT DOWN THE HILL

The two Jacks, President Kenneth Fitterling and Vice President Luke Fberly, are walking the two Jills, Secretary Louise Miller and Treasurer Nancy Kulp, down the hill with their books of knowledge.

THE YEAR

Mr. Robert Boland, a local attorney, explains courtroom procedures to R. Coleman, C. Dry, and N. Shiffer during a P. A. D. class.

A group of seniors are shown at the entrance to the Pottstown division of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. prior to touring the plant.

Eileen Reinsel, Elaine Reinsel, C. Ohlinger, and M. Potts are selecting the name cards and announcements they want as Miss Rhodes, M. Fisher, chairman of the name card and announcement committee, and Mr. Paul Wagner, salesman from Bastian Brothers Co., stand by ready to give some advice.

These couples were among the estimated 100 couples who danced to the strains of Saxie Schollenberger's Orchestra at the Christmas Candy Cane Caper.

Trying to balance the senior class budget are N. Kulp, treasurer; L. Miller, secretary; K. Fitterling, president, and L. Eberly, vice president, with the help of Mr. Wise.

Checking samples for 40 name cards and announcements are these members of the name card and announcement committee.

Miss Bast shows D. Harding samples of tickets that can be used for different senior events.

Looking on are S. Freeman, L. Weller, R. Weitzel, chairman; P. Shenk, and D. Hess.

Where shall we go? This is the question being solved by the class trip committee. They are Elaine Reinsel, P. Armour, Eileen Reinsel, B. Williams, J. Doremus, chairman; Mr. Wise, advisor; and B. Tolbert.

SWARM

Committee: K. Williams, R. Bross, M. Fisher, chairman; B. Hartman. Missing from the picture are M. Stoudt and R. Krick.

The flower, motto, and gift committee consisting of P. Webber, M. Leebmann, Miss Zug, advisor, J. Toney, J. Heath, M. J. Potts, chairman, and K. Huntzinger are at work deciding on the mottos to be presented to the class.

Measuring B. Smy's head is D. Rumpf while E. Garrison, Mr. T. Alder, advisor, C. Haller, chairman, A. Bard and K. Gung look on. They are all members of the cup and gown committee.

The social committee discussing plans for this year are E. Arosell, D. Ulrich, chairman; N. Shiffer, R. Schwerdt, M. Schultz and N. Haller.

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE by Jane Kendall

A Romantic Comedy in Three Acts

SYNOPSIS

Five daughters to marry off! Was ever a mother so put upon as Mrs. Bennet? Jane, the sweet-tempered beauty of the family, is not apt to prove a problem. Flirtatious Lydia elopes with a penniless—but handsome—officer. But Elizabeth is so critical that her good looks hardly count. When her clergyman cousin comes to court her, she brushes him off. Mama is frantic! Jane falls deeply in love with the wealthy Mr. Bingley, and it looks as if an affair is possible between Elizabeth and Mr. Bingley's friend, Mr. Darcy. But Mr. Darcy is a proud man, and is shocked by Mama's vulgar attempts at match-making. He not only whisks himself off to London, but takes Mr. Bingley with him—before he is ensnared. Jane is heartbroken. Elizabeth is enraged that such an injustice should be done Jane. Mr. Darcy comes back to propose to Elizabeth "against his better judgment." She tells him "No!" and berates him for taking Mr. Bingley away and breaking Jane's heart. But the attraction between Elizabeth and Darcy triumphs over the pride of one and the prejudice of the other, and both couples are re-united. Mrs. Bennet is delighted! Three daughters married! Now she can concentrate on her other daughters.

"Oh Lydia, Lydia," wails Eileen Reinsel as M. Schultz tries to comfort her.

Standing, second row: A. Rankin, K. Fetterling, N. Bennett, M. Rankin, R. Schwerdt, president; K. Huntzinger, J. Doremus, and B. Keinard.

A MAN OF WORDS

Betsy Greene is trying to prove that a plan of federal scholarships is practicable.

The members of the debating team are all men of words as they participate in their debates.

The main function of the debating club is to participate in the inter-high school debates. This past year the topic for debate was "Resolved, that Governmental subsidies should be granted to high school graduates who qualify for additional training." Besides the inter-high school debates, the club participated in the Junior Town Meeting of the Air and also held debates weekly among themselves.

The officers of the club are president, Eileen Reinsel; vice president, Kent Huntzinger; and secretary, Barbara Benson.

In direct rebuttal, Elaine Reinsel says that this plan is not feasible.

The debating team consists of first row: K. Huntzinger, B. Greene, F. Koller, Eileen Reinsel, moderator: Elaine Reinsel, E. Neufeld, and A. Zwicky.

Second row: R. Schwerdt, J. Costello, S. Boyer, J. Brant, A. Mengel, Mrs. Herb, coach; D. Lutz, N. Rieser, A. Fritz, L. Barth, B. Benson, P. Guresh, S. Pfleger, and J. Reber.

Posing for the photographer are the inter-school debaters and their alternates.

NOW WHAT DO YOU THINK?

The Ways and Means Committee is decorating for a dance. Committee members are W. Pottenger, D. Seib, N. Spayd, M. Keller, R. Turner, R. Krick, chairman; and W. Hoffman.

The Magazine Campaign members are checking the results of the day. They are J. Chinnici, G. Grimes, B. Green, W. Durdan, and M. Stoudt, chairman.

Trying to solve a problem are the Principal's Committee and Mr. Rehner. They are Mr. Rehner, D. Harbach, and

M. McAllister, C. Moyer, Gressmer, and L. Huntzberger.

Keeping the traffic in the halls moving smoothly is the job of the monitors. First row: L. Sarig, K. Huntzinger, R. Schwerdt, R. Coleman, Doremas, Captains, N. Bennett, Littering, and R. Sanders.

Under the leadership of M. S. Wallace, B. Keinard, and D. Rehner, the student council has had a very prosperous and successful year.

By selling $6,133.32 worth of magazines, the students in grades seven through twelve of the Wilson Joint School System established themselves as county "champs" again. The money from the campaign is to be spent on drapes to match the stage curtain in the auditorium.

We were host to Allentown students who visited the council and school.

The monitor system was set up again this year and helped to move traffic through the halls at a smooth pace.

The council sponsored Mary Sue to the National Convention at Lower Merion High School, Ardmore, Pennsylvania. She was one of two representatives from Berks County. B. Keinard and A. Mengel attended the State Convention at Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania.

The Student Council closed the year by holding their elections on the voting machine.

Second row: S. Weaver, W. Heath, Harbach, B. Keinard, P. Weaver, Buzzanca, A. Rankin, and M. Rank. W. Protheroe is missing from the picture.

Keeping the council in shape are the officers and Mr. Aaron Miller, advisor. B. Keinard, vice president; Mr. Miller, M. S. Wallace, president; and D. Rehner, secretary-treasurer.

Getting things ready for visitors is the Visitation Committee. A. Mengel, F. Franks, D. Rehner, chairman; G. Leach, and D. Bohn.

M. Schultz, L. Dick, and M. S. Wallace work on a page at the table while L. Shaeffer and N. Shaffer proof read the senior write-ups. L. Huntzberger is measuring pictures for cutting.

M. Longenecker plans lettering for one of the homeroom pages.

Planning a page by checking margins and cropping pictures are Mrs. Rollman, advisor, M. Schultz and J. Noble.

As Mr. Wise, advisor, explains the procedure for soliciting patrons to R. Imgrund, J. Meloney, chairman; B. Tolbert, B. Williams, D. Harding, and J. Brant, Wilsonian advertising committee members listen intently.

Striking a pose are these majorettes: J. Foreman, C. Williams, M. S. Wallace, head majorette; N. Shiffer, and L. Shaeffer.

TWIRLING THEIR TWISTERS

By offering a wide variety of activities, the music department gives every student an opportunity to develop his talent and appreciation of music. During his time at football games, the marching band and majorettes parade in colorful formations. The symphonette plays before and during various school dramatic performances. At the Easter and Christmas assemblies, members of the junior and senior high choruses sing for the student body. A mid-winter concert is presented by the band and majorettes, and every year all the musical organizations cooperate to present the Spring Music Festival.

D. Rumpf, M. Hill, C. Hollenbach, P. Hussler, and J. Miller, color guards, stand at attention.

Waiting to begin rehearsal are members of the Sinking Spring Junior High School Band. This band plays for the assemblies and open house at Sinking Spring.

The Symphonette consists of: first row—D. Reiter, J. May, F. Zeriba, F. Koller, J. Moyer, and F. Vastine. Second row—F. Arosch, M. Lommacker, D. Powers, F. Kulp, R. Moyer, D. Rentschler, and N. Kulp. Third row—B. Holt, B. Gring, R. Ziegenfuss, R. Zell, N. Ruser, and C. May.

LITTLE BOY BLUE COME BLOW YOUR HORN

The Wilsonaires are: B. Gring, seated. First row—J. Flemming, J. Hinkle, H. Stern, R. Schwerdt, N. Haller, and R. Stewart. Second row—L. Reddy, G. Kinsinger, R. Zell, N. Fogley, and R. Ziegenfuss.

The alto section of the chorus waits for the go-ahead signal.

First row: B. Benson, D. Frang, V. Carr, F. Franks, A. Bard, J. Kunkelman, and D. Rehner.

Second row: S. Yocum, D. Lutz, N. Kulp, E. Oldt, E. Russell, E. Aronell, and B. Gring.

Third row: N. Shaffer, C. Heffner, M. S. Wallace, E. Shaeffer, A. Hoffman, M. Schultz, G. Trexler, and J. Noble.

Gathered around the piano discussing plans for the year are the chorus officers B. Keinard, vice president, B. Gring, R. Ziegenfuss, librarians M. J. Potts, president, and F. Franks, secretary-treasurer.

A successful concert brings a smile to all the faces of the band members and the high stepping majorettes.

Members of the soprano section of the senior high mixed chorus are Front row: N. Kratz, J. Moyer, A. Meinholz, S. Latz, I. Smith, Eileen Reinsel, and C. Ohlinger.
 Second row: E. Neufeld, J. Dundore, R. Moyer, M. J. Potts, S. Koch, G. Hollenbach, M. A. Keough, and D. Gessler.
 Third row: J. Heath, I. Groth, D. Ulrich, K. Williams, M. Kaese, B. McCann, and B. Phillips.

I SING, I SING

Eager to begin singing are the bass and tenor sections of the chorus.
 Front row: J. Reber, J. Tomey, A. Fritz, B. Keinard, and B. Ziegenfuss.
 Second row: W. Roth, D. Harbach, C. Dry, N. Haller, L. Saritz, A. Zwicky, and D. Hess.
 Third row: A. Rankin, K. Huntzinger, L. Butkus, M. Rankin, H. Stern, B. Gring, and W. Klinger.

"T H A M Rah, Team!" cheer the varsity cheerleaders in rounds at an active pep meeting.

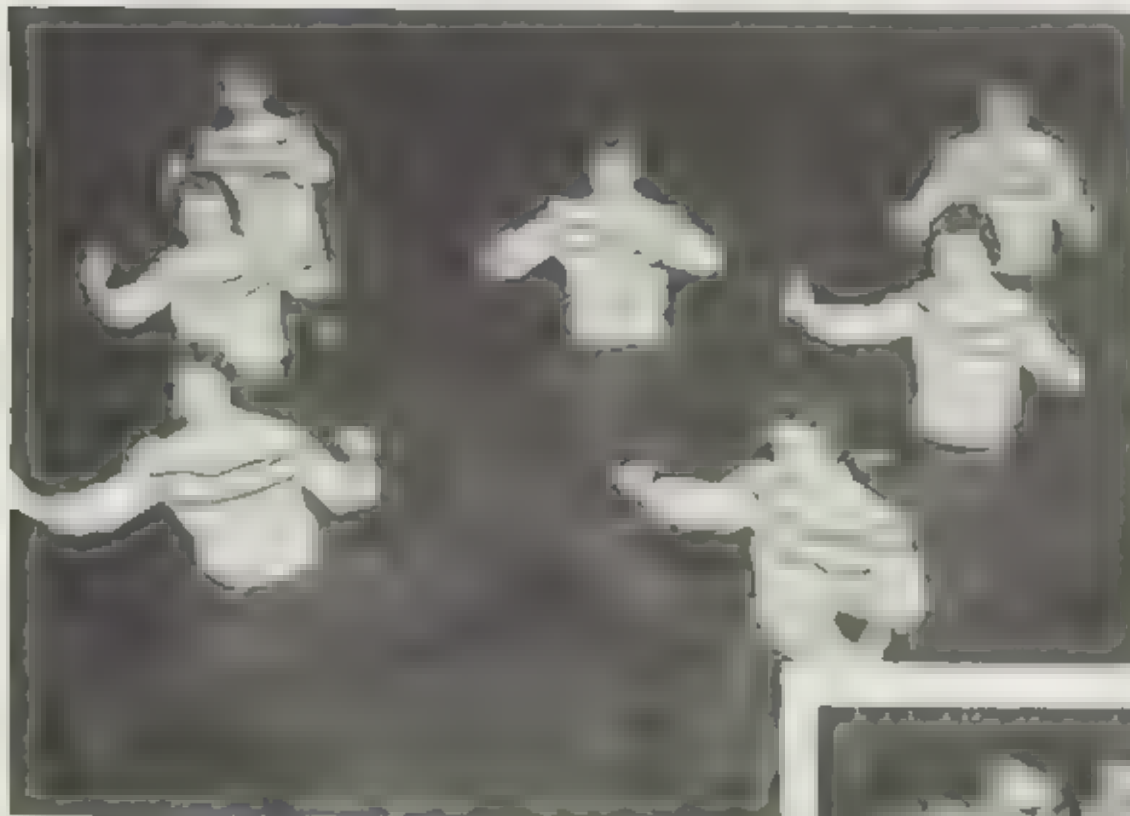

"Are you ready? Let's go!" The varsity cheerleaders are S. Youton, Elaine Rensel, M. J. Potts, F. Arosch, L. Hantzger and A. Baird. These senior girls cheered for our football and basketball teams. They helped to plan a "Rantre" pep meeting, and also helped select rosters for a football game, the first football game played at Wilson. The girls also planned interesting pep meetings and worked to keep the school spirit at a high level.

WITH A HOP, SKIP, AND A JUMP

The pony cheerleaders are C. Talbott, P. Kaufman, C. Kunkleman, E. Liss, L. Rankin, and C. Protheroe. These girls wear red and white skirts with white turtle-neck sweaters to cheer for the pony basketball team.

The junior varsity cheerleaders cheered the junior varsity basketball team to victory. The girls are anxious for another year of cheering for basketball and football games. In formation are C. Terabuck, C. Fyring, E. Toomas, B. Benson, S. Koch, J. Kunkelman, and C. Smith.

The Athletic Association guides and finances the interscholastic athletic program at Wilson. The student representatives and faculty work together to set up a policy for the sports at Wilson. Choosing and purchasing the awards for the outstanding athletes is the final task of the Athletic Association.

Here is the Athletic Association discussing the needs of the girls' hockey team. They are Mr. Wick, administrator, Mr. Shaak, football coach, Mr. Arner, faculty manager of athletics, Mr. Rehner, principal, G. Leach, secretary-treasurer, Mr. Evans, junior high football coach, N. Fyrich, vice president, Mr. Coatsworth, tennis coach, Mr. Lemmer, basketball coach, and Mr. Brumback, golf coach. Sitting at the table are K. Littering, president, Mr. Lemmer, girls' athletic director, and M. S. Wallace, president of Student Council.

Found on the public side of the "Iron Curtain" are our five senior players R. Coleman, J. Doremus, L. Sarig, W. Protheroe, and R. Sanders getting ready for a practice session.

Danny Ruth is overtaken by a host of West Reading players while fighting for the ball.

"Snap it up! Snap it up!" echoes through the air as the football team goes through its paces.

GAME REVIEWS

Hellertown — For their first game of the season, the Prexies traveled to Hellertown where they were defeated, but not without a tough fight.

Cressona — Under the sun of a beautiful fall day, the Prexies beat Cressona at our stadium 12-6.

Frackville — On a rainy, dismal day, with a few fans rooting the team to victory, Wilson scored a 0-0 deadlock.

Governor Mifflin — Beneath the lights at the Municipal Stadium, the Prexies took a beating by Governor Mifflin's eleven.

West Reading — One of the easiest victories for our team this year was the game played against West Reading. In this game S. Bylina scored four touchdowns.

Warwick — After many touchdowns were called back for Wilson, Warwick rallied on to defeat us 26-6.

Boyertown — Playing under the lights at the Municipal Stadium, Boyertown gave the Prexies quite a beating, as the final score was 27-0.

Lebanon Catholic—This game could be classified as the heart breaker of the year. After a rough tussle with Lebanon Catholic, the Prexies lost by two points.

Muhlenberg — Once again Muhlenberg showed their strength as they beat our team 27-0.

J. Doremus and S. Bylina were voted outstanding back and lineman of the year by the team and the Sports Club.

There he goes again!!! S. Bylina races to the goal line for the fourth TD for the Prexies in the West Reading game.

*Non-League match

W. Good and the remainder of the team look on as his opponent steps into a powerful drive.

G. Shurr is preparing to catch the ball into the hole on the green.

With a perfect swing, Richard Krick hopes to approach the pin.

The members of last year's championship team place their woods around the little white ball.

Standing are E. Rowler, W. Good, Richard Krick, Ronald Krick, G. Shurr, captain; and Mr. Brumbach, coach.

As they leave the tee on No. 5, Ronald Krick and his opponent pick up their bags.

"Will he sink it?" thinks Ronald Krick as his man completes a putt.

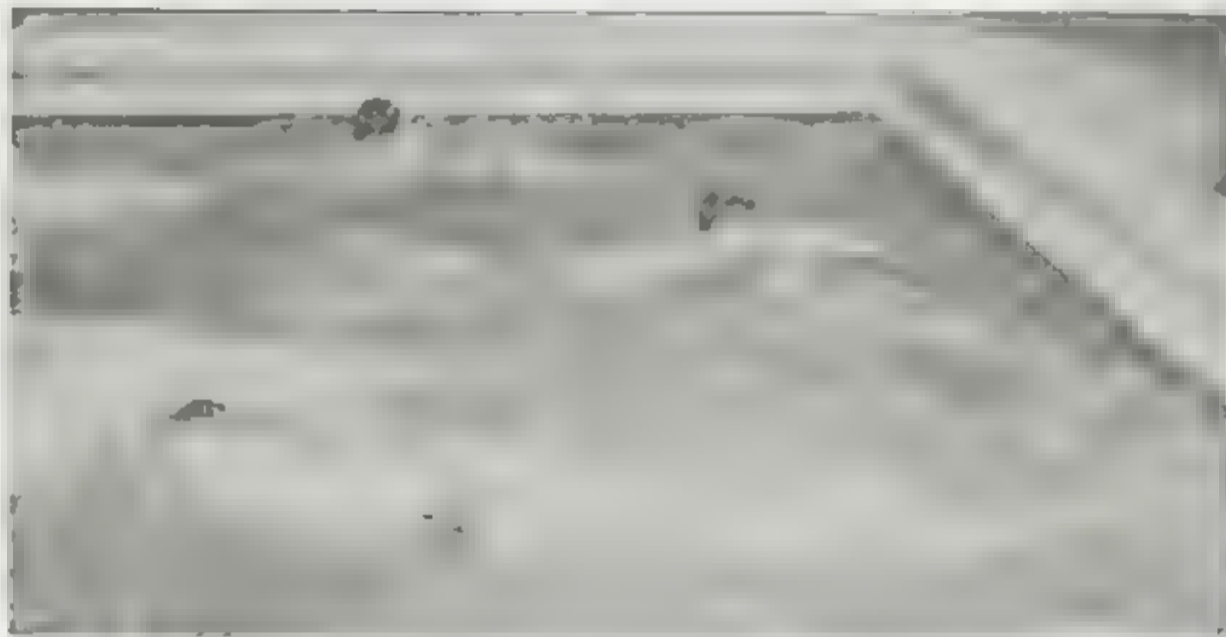

Here we find F. Smith perfecting the jack-knife.

The senior girls line up after the last game.

C. Leininger battles for the ball during the Muhlenberg game. D. Rumpf looks on.

"Come on, girls, you can do it!!" exclaims Miss Leinbach, enthusiastically.

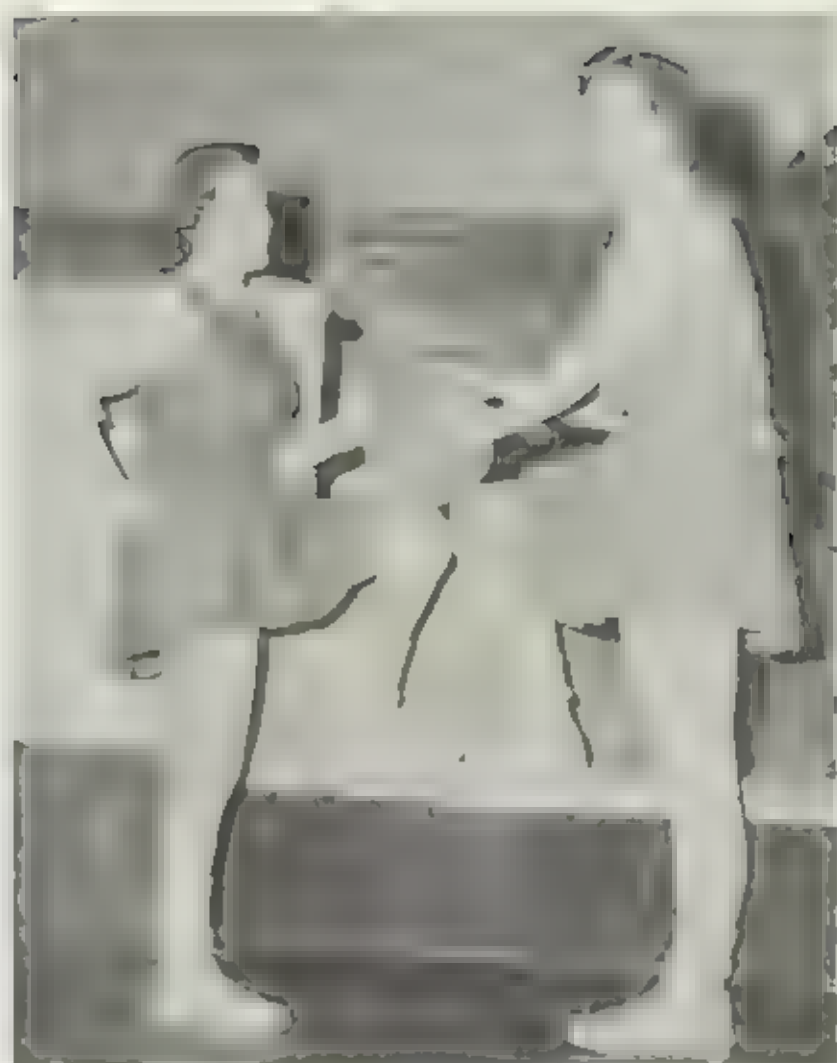

The co-captains, L. Huntzberger and M. Longenecker, look forward to the coming game.

D. Ulrich tries in vain to obtain a loose ball from a Mt. Penn. player

K. Williams and M. Wallace are the co-captains of the girls' team

The varsity basketball team includes:

First row: C. Halder, B. McCann, D. Ulrich, K. Williams, M. Wallace, K. Gring, and M. Longenecker

TWO FOR THE SHOW

The motion picture projectionists play a large part in assemblies. Getting ready to show a film are B. Gring, W. Hildebrand, and R. Imgrund.

The assembly committee selects interesting and outstanding assemblies for our students. Seated are B. Benson, M. Schultz, D. Pawling, C. Larned, and C. Hauser. Standing are Miss Shedy, W. Hoffman, R. Coleman, and J. Speece.

The $64,000 question is the theme of this year's Spectator assembly. Hal March, alias Bruce Williams, questions R. Brown, an 8th grader.

What would we do without our steel hands? Tinkering with a few of the instruments are R. Schwartz, A. Fritz, R. Dugan, M. Schwartz, S. Hertz, and B. Williams.

Training monkeys and dogs takes a great deal of patience. Shown here is Mrs. Augspurg with one of her pet monkeys.

"The Shooting Gauchos," sponsored by the assembly committee, are explaining the parts of a rifle to J. Young and T. Bauers.

"This is almost the zero hour, Jackie." M. Schultz and J. Heath are rehearsing the play, "To The Lovely Margaret."

R. Bollman, R. Stewart, S. Laumeister, and J. Kissinger are part of a "Christmas Card" used in the Christmas assembly.

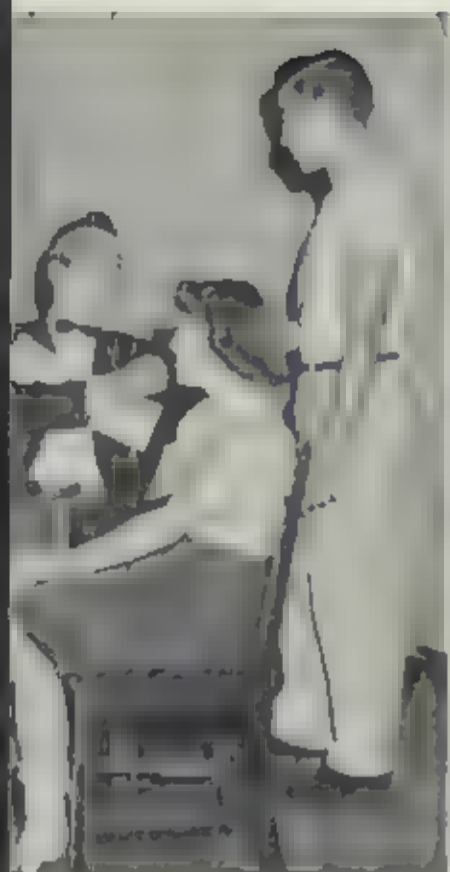

The real meaning of Thanksgiving was brought out in the play, "Thankful Hearts." M.

Mr. Rehner is congratulating Mr. James Titus, a story teller presented by the school assembly service, on his fine performance.

ankin is showing the cast that is better to give than to receive.

Susan Huntzberger, winner of the junior high Wilsonian talent show, displays one of the many different poses used in twirling.

Jackie Heath, winner of the senior high Wilsonian talent show, is trying to decide what song to use in the Governor Mifflin assembly.

Posing for the camera are L. Shaeffer, M. Schultz, L. Huntzberger, J. Noble, A. Bard, and M. J. Potts, better known as the "Flappers."

"All eyes on the fish." M Schultz directs the characters in "Scrambled Eggs," a Mask and Dagger performance.

EUROPEAN HOLIDAY

Shirley Bieber, 1955 May Queen, is surrounded by her court which consists of B. Batzel, crown bearer; M. Hertzog, maid of honor; R. A. Miller, train bearer; and P. Boyer, flower girl. Missing from the picture is E. Demming, flower girl.

As a final tribute to their queen, the Court of Honor entertains her with a striking waltz.

With the many sights of her European Holiday fresh in her mind, Queen Shirley leads her regal court from the place of crowning.

DANCES IN REVIEW

The 1956 queen and her court are smiling for the camera. Surrounding Queen Eileen Garrison are B. Hartman, flower girl; C. Ohlinger, crown bearer; K. Williams, maid of honor; S. Parsons, train bearer; and M. Stoudt, flower girl.

Miss Sheidy and M. Schults are demonstrating the waltz to the other senior girl dancers. Seated are B. McCann, M. Fisher, C. Halder, D. Ulrich, E. Arosell, and L. Miller. Standing are J. Heath, N. Shuffer, A. Bard, J. Knaub, and N. Kulp.

Chairmen of the various committees for May Day are M. Stoudt, costume; J. Noble, dance; Eileen Reinsel, script; D. Rumpf, art and theme; and D. Ulrich, flower.

After being chosen, the six commencement speakers meet with Mr. Rehner in the office. Mr. Rehner offers his congratulations and informs the speakers about the commencement program. Standing behind N. Kulp, J. Heath, Elaine Reinsel, and N. Shiffer are R. Schwerdt and N. Bennett.
